Wood in Heat

Wood that is dry can be burned by fire. Kindling is a type of wood that is used to start a fire because it burns easily.

When wood is burning, the fire gives us light and heat. Once the wood has been burned, it becomes ash.

In 2017, wildfires in California burned 122 acres (49 hectares) in Sonoma county alone.

CHAPTER ONE

What Is Energy?

A farmer wants to plant seeds. First, she needs to make the ground ready. So, she turns the key on her tractor. The engine roars to start. The farmer drives the tractor to prepare the ground for the seeds.

How is the farmer able to drive the tractor? It is a result of energy. Energy cannot be created or destroyed, but it can change forms.

Naming the Planet

Ancient peoples had many myths about Earth. Ancient Greeks believed that the Earth goddess Gaea was the mother of all gods. Ancient Romans also believed in an Earth goddess. They called her Tellus or Terra Mater, which means "Mother Earth."

All the planets except Earth are named after Greek or Roman gods and goddesses. The name "Earth" is at least 1,000 years old. It comes from an Old English word meaning "ground."

Ancient peoples known as the Aztecs once lived in what is now known as Mexico. Their name for the Earth goddess was "Chalchihuitlicue."

Earth's Moon

Earth has one moon. It is the fifth-largest moon in the solar system. The Moon can be clearly seen in the night sky, but it does not make its own light. It reflects light from the Sun.

In 1969, American astronauts visited the Moon. They walked on the surface. In total, 12 people have walked on the Moon. They all traveled to the Moon between 1969 and 1972. There is no wind or atmosphere on the Moon. This means the astronauts' footprints should stay on the surface forever.

20 Pets We Love

Bunny Brushing

Although most pets require regular baths, this can be very harmful to a rabbit. You should never bathe your rabbit unless instructed to by a veterinarian. Baths lower a rabbit's body temperature to dangerous levels.

Rabbits groom themselves multiple times a day. This continuous grooming keeps rabbits feeling their best. However, there are also dangers associated with grooming. If your rabbit cleans herself too often, she is prone to getting hair balls. These occur when your rabbit swallows too much fur while licking herself. This can be incredibly harmful to your rabbit.

Unlike cats, rabbits are unable to vomit. This means that a large hair ball can block your rabbit's stomach. If she has a hair ball, she will not be able to eat or digest her food. Fiber in your rabbit's food can help prevent this from happening.

When grooming your pet, be very gentle. A rabbit's skin is extremely delicate. You may accidentally scratch your pet if you are not careful. Always use a plastic comb or a soft brush on your rabbit's fur. Make sure to brush in the same direction that the fur grows. Brushing your rabbit allows you to bond with her. It also lets you examine her skin and fur.

Just Another Day at Work

The countdown is over. A deafening roar bursts from the base of the Soyuz-FG rocket. As people around the world hold their breath, the rocket soars into the sky on a column of flame.

Blasting away from Earth are Timothy Kopra, Yuri Malenchenko, and Tim Peake. Just three scientists and engineers on their way to work!

In a few hours, the men will reach their destination—the International Space Station (ISS). Their training has been long and hard. But it will all be worth it to have the chance to live and work high above Earth in the most extreme laboratory ever built!

Soyuz-FG rockets blast off from the Baikonur Cosmodrome in Kazakhstan.

4 Thrilling Science and Technology Jobs

ISS Expedition 46 launched with crew members Timothy Kopra, Yuri Malenchenko, and Tim Peake on December 15, 2015.

As of 2019, more than 500 people have traveled to space.

In 1998, astronaut John Glenn became the oldest person to travel to space at age 77.

Russia's Yuri Gagarin was the first person in space.

Pick a Color

Persians come in more than 80 different colors and patterns. Professionally, the breed is shown in seven different divisions. Each one is based on the cat's color.

The most common solid colors are white, black, and cream. The breed also comes in chocolate and lilac. But these colors are quite rare.

Shaded and chinchilla Persians have a solid base color. They also have dark-tipped hairs. The smoke Persian looks like a solid-colored cat. But when taking a closer look, one can see that this cat has six different colors. Persians may also have a tabby coloring.

Some Persians have colors that mix together. Other Persians have just two colors on their coats.

The Himalayan Persian looks a lot like a Siamese cat. This color variety was made from breeding Persians with Siamese cats.

The eyes of a copper-eyed Persian are often compared to a shiny penny or a pumpkin pie.

Plant-eating Insects

Insects make up the largest number of herbivores. There are more insects in the world than all other forms of life put together. Scientists have identified more than 1 million insect species. Some scientists think there are millions more insect species that have not yet been discovered. Many species of beetles, flies, grasshoppers, and moths are plant eaters.

One of the best-known insect herbivores is the butterfly. Many species of butterflies are found around the world. Most butterflies live in tropical regions. They feed on nectar from flowers. They also drink the sweet juice from ripe fruit.

A butterfly uses its tube-like tongue to sip its meals. This tongue is called a proboscis. A butterfly unfolds the proboscis to sip nectar. When the butterfly finishes drinking, it rolls its proboscis underneath its head.

Global Ocean

"Without water, our planet would be one of the billions of lifeless rocks floating endlessly in the vastness of the inky-black void."

Fishion Courtesy, Oceanographer and Aquatic Filmaker

Our planet is unique among the planets because of its abundant water. From space, Earth looks like a blue marble, swirled with misty white clouds. Scientists estimate that the oceans formed about 3.8 billion years ago. Millions of years after Earth formed, it began to cool. Gases in the atmosphere formed clouds and liquid water fell to the ground. As much as half of Earth's water is believed to have come from comets that entered Earth's atmosphere. Rocks on Earth's surface slowly broke down and deposited minerals, such as salt, in the oceans.

The borders that divide the oceans are human-made. There are no naturally occurring divisions between each of the five oceans, and water moves freely between them. Animals also move, or migrate, between the worlds oceans from one season to another.

Water sustains all life on Earth, from the smallest microorganisms to the great blue whale. As many as 80 percent of Earth's living beings make their homes in oceans. Life on land is also dependent on the ocean. For instance, tiny oceanic organisms provide most of the oxygen that land-dwelling organisms need to breathe. In addition to food, breathable air, and transportation, the ocean is a source of artistic and spiritual inspiration for many of the world's people.

The Arctic Ocean is the smallest of the five oceans. Its surface is almost entirely covered in ice. While this frigid body of water may seem inhospitable to life, in reality, millions of unique plants and animals thrive below the ice.

The global ocean covers more than 70 percent of Earth's surface.

4 Our Five Oceans

The plants and animals of the world's oceans have adapted to the conditions of their unique habitats. Walruses have thick layers of body fat to withstand the cold waters of the Arctic Ocean.

One in six American jobs is dependent on the ocean.

95 percent of the global ocean has never been explored.

The Earth Is Moving!

Evan Monsignac sold his last batch of rice. It was a Tuesday afternoon. He was finishing his day at a market in Port-au-Prince, Haiti. Suddenly, the ground started to shake. Goods flew through the air. Monsignac fell to the ground. Buildings started to fall down around him. A big piece of concrete landed over where he lay. It blocked out the light. Eventually, the ground stopped shaking. Monsignac was alive but trapped.

The January 2010 earthquake in Haiti lasted only 40 seconds. But it caused a lot of damage. Many buildings and homes were turned into rubble. Dust and smoke covered Port-au-Prince in a dark cloud.

What Is Forgiveness?

Sometimes people do things that make you feel angry. Sometimes they say or do things that hurt your feelings. Forgiveness means letting go of hurt feelings. When you forgive people, you stop being angry at them. You accept their mistakes.

Being able to forgive someone means to let go of hurt feelings.

LAND AND CLIMATE

The land area of Africa covers about 11.4 million square miles (29.6 million sq. km.), or more than one-fifth of Earth's land area. Africa is an enormous plateau with a few mountain ranges. Deserts, tropical rain forests, and grasslands cover most of the continent.

Lake Victoria. Lake Victoria is the second largest lake in the world, located in East Africa. It covers 26,829 square miles (69,580 sq. km.) and is 1,600 feet (488 m) deep. The lake is fed by the Nile River and several smaller rivers. It is a major source of fish and a popular tourist destination.

Africa's Deserts. About two-fifths of Africa, some desert areas receive less than 10 inches (25 centimeters) of rain each year. In other desert regions, rain may not fall for six or seven years. The Sahara Desert stretches from the Mediterranean Sea in the Atlantic Ocean to the Red Sea. The Sahara is the world's largest desert. In this region, bare rock, gravel plains, and sand dunes cover thousands of square miles (million sq. km.). The Namib and Kalahari deserts are found in southern Africa.

Grasslands. Grasslands cover more than two-fifths of Africa. Thorny bushes, tall grasses, and scattered trees dot the land. Savannas stretch from the western coast south of the Congo Basin across eastern Africa and back to the Atlantic coast south of the Congo Basin.

Many of Africa's deserts are rainforests. Tropical rain forests receive as much as 400 inches (1,000 cm) of rainfall each year. Rain forests once grew across much of central Africa. Today, they are found in the Congo Basin, parts of western Africa, and Madagascar. This region is the wettest in Africa. Temperatures are high, often reaching 90°F (32°C) throughout the year. Most of the continent lies between the Tropic of Capricorn and the Tropic of Cancer. This area borders the equator. Temperatures are high, often reaching 90°F (32°C) throughout the year. Many parts of Africa have a dry season. Temperatures in these places are between 60° and 70°F (between 16° and 21°C).

What is a Primary Source?

A primary source is a document or record that provides a firsthand account of an event, a time period, or a particular subject. Primary sources are created at the time an event occurs. They are made by individuals who witness or participate in the event. Primary sources are the first evidence of something happening.

Letters, diaries, and similar documents are primary sources because they provide a firsthand account of events in a person's life. Photographs are also primary sources, as are newspaper articles, maps, school records, and speeches. Each of these items is a record of events. They can be used to reconstruct a person's life, or the events that took place around him or her.

EXERCISE

Primary sources, such as photographs, can be used to answer questions. Think about how the U.S. president travels from place to place. Now look at the picture above. How does this image help you answer your question? What information is missing? What else can you learn about the president from this image?

Curator
Annual salary: $38,000 to $90,000

A keeper of museum collections, a curator is the protector of the artifacts and artwork at a museum. The job of the role is to select important items to collect and care for them. The curator also makes sure to research as much as possible about the items in their collection to discover if a career in museums is right for them. The museum educator is the person responsible for educating the students about the exhibits. The museum educator works with school teachers to determine what is important for students to learn. They then create programs that cover these topics, along with hands-on activities that enhance the students' learning experience. Museum educator positions require a college degree in education or museum studies.

Programs Manager
Annual salary: $30,000 to $55,000

It is the job of a programs manager to create new and interesting ways for the public to engage with the museum. Programs managers create programs for different audiences of all ages. These programs are created for exhibits, educational programs, or seasonal events. The programs manager works with the curator on events such as gallery openings or highlighting a special artifact. The position requires a college degree in project management or event planning.

The skills required for putting together events are useful when planning a museum's program.

What Is a Refugee?

Refugees are people who have no choice but to leave their home country. When refugees arrive in another country, they can apply for asylum, which means they will receive help from that country's government. Every person in the world has the right to seek asylum. People waiting for their asylum applications to be successful are called asylum seekers.

A person who has had to leave his or her home, but has not moved to a different country, is referred to as an internally displaced person.

A government will know how many refugees are seeking asylum in its country by the number of asylum applications it receives. However, this number is not totally accurate, as not every refugee will claim asylum.

Refugees should claim asylum in the first safe country they reach. If a refugee is refused asylum by a country's government, he or she will not be able to live in that country. Sometimes, refugees may choose to stay in that country after they have been refused, or they might never tell the government that they arrived in the first place. In this case, they are called illegal immigrants.

Sample taken from

In the United States, nearly 70 percent of people say they have experienced discrimination.

Shelves loaded with CDs surrounded Opal and Stew. There were more CDs in the middle of the room.
"Those on the wall," pointed Opal, "are audiobooks, or books read on CD."
Stew nodded to the CDs in the middle of the room. "What are those, then?"
"Music," smiled Opal.
"Noooooo waaaaay!" shouted Stew.
"Shhh!" cautioned Opal. "Use your library voice."
Stew was confused. "Library voice?"
Opal explained that using one's library voice meant speaking in a soft whisper. "Many people come here to study," she explained. "Look behind you."
Stew turned around. He saw magazines and newspapers. At a table, some young lizards were working on homework. Other folks were reading books. Suddenly, Stew wanted a book to read, too.

INTRODUCTION

The Kansas City Chiefs have a long history. Their dedicated fans have stood by the team through many ups and downs. The Chiefs are at the heart of some of the biggest rivalries in the National Football League (NFL). They boast three American Football League (AFL) titles and two Super Bowl wins, the first in 1970 and the second in 2020. Multiple offensive and defensive players from the Chiefs have been Pro Bowlers. They are 1 of 16 NFL teams with their own team hall of fame.

The Uniforms

The Warriors played three games in their "Chinese New Year" uniforms during the 2015–16 season.

Inside the NBA

From 1946 to 1962, the Philadelphia Warriors used blue, red, and gold as their colors. Both the white and blue uniforms read "Phila." When the team moved to California in 1962, the uniforms remained the same except for replacing "Phila" with "San Francisco" across the chest.

In 1966, the franchise adopted blue and gold as its colors. Until 1966, both the gold home and blue away uniforms read "Warriors." The team then used variations of "The City" design from 1966 to 1999. The most popular design of this era had "The City" above a logo of the Oakland Bay Bridge on both the home and away uniforms. The Warriors used navy blue, gold, and orange as its colors starting in 1997. That design existed until 2010, when the team returned to the Bay Bridge design of the late 1960s. The Warriors currently use this design.

During the 1990s, the Warriors opted for a more conventional NBA uniform design with the team name written across the chest.

How to Tell?

Long ago, people did not know how to measure temperature. They had to guess. That made many jobs hard. A hot oven can bake bread. But a too-hot oven will burn it.

It was hard to tell exactly how hot or cold it was outside. That made planning for outside work difficult, too. People needed a way to find out how hot or cold things were.

The Hindi-language cinema industry based in Mumbai is called Bollywood, a word that combines the names Bombay and Hollywood. The city of Mumbai was called Bombay until 1995, when people didn't like the word Bollywood, because it makes the industry seem secondary to Hollywood, California. But Bollywood remains an important and thriving Indian industry.

A typical Bollywood film, meant to entertain the entire family, has song, dance, drama, comedy, and action. Bollywood stars are huge celebrities with millions of fans. A film's soundtrack is a crucial part of the production and marketing of the movie to create anticipation and excitement.

Bollywood movie dialogue is spoken in Hindi but includes subtitles in many languages such as English, Spanish, and French, so that audiences that don't understand Hindi can enjoy the film. There are studios all over Asia, Russia, and wherever an immigrant Indian population is found: Great Britain, the Middle East, and parts of Africa.

¿Cómo saberlo?

Hace mucho tiempo, la gente no sabía cómo medir la temperatura. Tenían que calcularla. Esto dificultaba muchos trabajos. El pan se hornea en un horno caliente, pero si el horno está demasiado caliente, se quema.

Era difícil saber exactamente cuánto calor o frío hacia afuera. Esto también dificultaba la planificación de los trabajos a la intemperie. Se necesitaba una forma de saber la temperatura de las cosas.

Welcome to EYEDISCOVER

EYEDISCOVER is designed to inspire children at the Kindergarten to Grade 2 levels in a fresh new way.

EYEDISCOVER interactive eBooks bridge the gap between print and digital.

Every spread of each EYEDISCOVER book is connected to a high-resolution video, bringing the content on the pages to life.

Each hardcover book is packed with special features designed for reluctant readers.

An optic readalong included with each title uses real actors to read the book aloud. This allows beginning readers to listen at their own pace.

All EYEDISCOVER books contain a unique printed code that unlocks the interactive eBook and optic readalong. EYEDISCOVER is built to work on every device and is optimized for the iPad.

Common sight and content words help young readers improve their fluency and reading comprehension.

Every hardcover book includes two full pages of highly visual infographics that bring topical facts to life.
